Trolley Lines as Freight Carriers The Legislature of the State of New Jersey is devoting considerable time to the consideration of a bill which is intended to bestow upon trolley lines the right to carry freight. Delegations of farmers have been given hearings, at which they maintained that a freight service on the troller lines would materially sid them to get their produce, especially milk, perishable fruit and vigetables to the markets of Philadelphia ani New York. The bill has passed the tenate.

Representatives of such steam railroads as the Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Lehigh Valley have appeared to oppose the bill. Judge Gilbert Collins, speaking for the Erie and the Lehigh Valley railroads. urged that the trolley companies ought to organize under the general railroad laws if they want greater power. In many cases they were given the right to use highways with the understanding that they were to do a passenger business only. He mentioned the fact that here are 2,503 miles of railway in New Jersey, andthe ratiroads employ, not including machinists, clerks and stenographers, over 18,900 men. He deplored any wild effort that would affect so large a number of men and an enormous amount of invested capital. The proposition to allow trolley lines operating in the country to carry freight is much less objectionable than would be permission to operate cars over lines in cities and towns, and this would be necessary if the cars are to reach proper 2.30 P. The Other Bide of Things- Graft." In "Lessons of the Lepten Besson" the Outlook, (speaking of the many revelations of financial irragularities recently made) says "there have been few disclosures of calculated villanybut there have come to light, widespread stupelying of the conscience, confusion of moral ideas, and ar acquiescence in evil conditions."

That is true, but it is not new. As far back as vid men can remember, if was a common thing for not a few travellers on railroads to "bent the company out of a ride" if they could. To-day it is just as common on trolley ears. Even some good "Christian women will not offer a fare for a child over age unless compelled to do so Such people would not think of steeling s pair of gloves, or a handkershief from a display counter in a store, or a box of berries from a fruit stand, or a newspaper from-a news stand, but to steal ride from a transportation company seems to them no discredit whatever.

Again, some workmen who would do a full, faithful day's work for a neighbor, see no harm in "soldiering" all they can when working on a government job, or for a big corporation. Or the merchant or manufacturer, who would scorn to cheat an individual customer, finds it perfectly legitimate to cheat the town, or city, or "government," in any goods so sold ..

Again, some wealthy men who could not be led by any circumstances to steal money direct out of the pockets of their poor neighbors, forget when making out their lists of taxable property, that if such lists do not show full value, they are stealing a portion of the public taxes that they ought to pay, out of the pockets of those same neighbors, just as surely as though they took it out direct, for the government of a at 3 P. M. Junior Society last Thurs- town or city, or a state must raise its moneys by taxation, and if one man does not pay his just share, some other man must pay more than his fust share to make up the full sum.

> Again, a man meets with an accident in a friend's or a neighbor's house or yard and it costs him both time and money, and perhaps physical pain in the process of recovery; yet he makes no claim whatever for damages. Had the same accident occurred in a public conveyance some men would claim damages greatly in excess of actua cost, and even claim damages for slight injury causing no serious inconvenience whatever, forgetting that such claims are surely attempts at harmful deceit, and attempts to ge money under false pretence. Ouriously enough, too, such men are as likely to be found out of prisons as is, and is churches as out, for it seems to be quite generally regarded as "the proper thing to de," to name an amount much larger than the just sum for such damage claims. The injunction: 'Let your yea be yes, and your pay, pay ' is not only disregarded, but its disregard is aught to others. Now these are all of the same nature, down inside," as are the perations of government, bank, s "something for nothing." In most cases it is not coldly "calculated villany," but the result of selfish grasping in places and ways not likely to come to light or having large common acceptance, in spite of actual injustic F. W. HEWES.

More Lackawanna Improvements The officials of the Lackswanna Railroad have had under discussion for some time the propriety of building another tunnel under Bergen Hill, and now it is stated that a contract for that purpose is to be located south of the present to handle the traffic now pressing on its loboken terminal facilities. The new tunnel, like the old one, will traverse the hill above the Erie's present tunnel. This is to be used largely for freight traffic when the cut through the Heights. for which the Erie recently let the contract, is completed. The new Lacks. wanna tunnel, which must be finished n two years, will cost about $1,000 000. It is said that the making of the tunnel will mark the beginning of a plan to electrify the Lackawanna service on the Morris and Essex division. If this is so, then we may expect to see the cars on that road between here and New York propelled by electricity instead of

A Vindication for Dr. Rierce A verdict has been rendered in favor the plaintiff in the libel suit brought against the Ladies' Home Journal (published by the Curtis Publishing Co.) by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is President. The suit was brought by Doctor Pierce against the Curtis Publishing Co., for making false statements about one of his standard family medicines known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal (1904), Mr. Edward Bok, the editor, stated that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contained alcohol and some other harmful ingredients, and Dr. Pierce had in the action alleged that the defendant maliciously published this article containing such false and defamatory matter. Dr. Pierce further claimed that no alcohol is or ever was contained in his Favorite Prescription, that said medicine was no deleterious ingredients whatever. The retraction printed by the Curtis Publishing Company two months after the libellous statement appeared and nearly two months after the suit had been begun stated definitely that analyses had been made at their request and that the Favorite Prescription did not contain either alcohol, opium er
